

NORTH OGDEN PIONEER DIES

Alma Montgomery First
White Child Born in That Community

Alma Montgomery, the first white child born at North Ogden, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Montgomery.

Mr. Montgomery, who was born at North Ogden January 1, 1852, during his life he has been a prominent worker in the L. D. S. church, and has been affiliated with civic and social activities of the community.

He was married January 2, 1879, to Elizabeth Chadwick, at the Salt Lake endowment house and in May, 1896, departed on a mission to Scotland. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Isabel Cazier, 85 years old, of North Ogden, and Mrs. Margaret Gardner of Devereville, 51 years old.

Of his immediate family his widow and the following sons and daughters survive: Mrs. Josephine Blaylock, Mrs. Zina Blaylock, Lorenzo Montgomery, Mrs. Priscilla Francis, Mrs. Edith Hutchinson, Mrs. Ethel Blaylock, Kimball and Arthur Montgomery.

Funeral services will be held at the North Ogden meeting house at 2 o'clock Saturday, with Bishop Frederick Barker officiating. The body may be viewed at the home Friday and Saturday. Flowers may be left with Larion & Sons. Interment will be in the City cemetery.

TESTS SOIL FOR BEET CROP PEST

Gerald Thorne, government expert, who has been lecturing in Weber county on the sugar beet nematode during the past two weeks, is conducting a soil test at Taylor today for the purpose of ascertaining which fields are harboring the crop pest. He will lecture in Slaterville and North Ogden tomorrow and at Five Points Saturday.

Mr. Thorne, this morning, said that this crop pest was not an insect, but a microscopic worm. It is parasitic in its habits, and lives by extracting juices from root hairs of the beets. The minute worms live over the winter in cysts and can live in this stage through several seasons.

Crop rotation, with crops planted which the nematodes will not molest, has a tendency to eradicate them.

N. OGDEN ORGANIZES FAST BASEBALL NINE

Baseball supporters of North Ogden held an interesting meeting last night at which plans for the coming season were outlined and discussed. Roy Snooks was unanimously named manager of the club for the coming season.

The baseball park at North Ogden will be placed in first-class condition and a squad of eighteen players will start spring practice within the next few days. George E. Brown, C. Henry Storey and William N. Baker were named as a committee to stimulate interest in the new club and to raise funds.

With an abundance of good material, Manager Snooks is looking forward to a winning season. The North Ogden team will be entered in the Weber County farm bureau league.

GIRLS BITTEN BY RABID DOGS

Pasteur Treatment to Be Given Ella Peterson and Knight Girl

Examination in Salt Lake of the heads of two dogs which inflicted bites upon two small girls in Weber county, within the last week has shown that the animals were rabid and Pasteur treatment for the victims will arrive in Ogden today to be administered by physicians according to Roy M. Wilson, city physician.

The report, which arrived from L. L. Daines, state bacteriologist, shows that a dog which inflicted bites upon Ella Peterson, 9 years of age, 536 West Twenty-first street, on March 5, was suffering from the disease in the most pronounced stage. The animal bit the girl upon the fingers and upon the calf of the leg. With the arrival of the Pasteur treatment today the girl will be put under the care of Dr. Wilson.

Positive signs of rabies were also found upon the examination of the head of a dog which bit the 3-year-old daughter of Joseph Knight of Warren, last Friday, according to the report. Treatment will also be given this victim today by Dr. Wilson.

NEVADA COMMISSION FREED OF CHARGES

The probe recently ordered by the Nevada legislature in which the Nevada highway commission among other charges alleged to have misapplied road funds, was completed at Carson City yesterday according to B. J. Finch, district engineer of the U. S. bureau of public roads. The legislative committee in their report freed the commission of blame and asserted that the money had been spent judiciously and that nothing warranted the charges was found.

M'KAY CHALLENGES WINNERS OF FIGHT

Gordon McKay, well known middle-weight boxer of the west, through his manager, V. Whittington, today wired a challenge to the winner of the Johnny Wilson-Mike O'Dowd championship battle, which will be staged at New York City this evening.

McKay met O'Dowd, the former champion, at Ponca City last July 4, and lost the decision at the end of the twelfth round. Since that time McKay has been meeting the best of them in the section of the country and is confident that he can hold his own with the winner of the battle this evening.

Wilson won the title from O'Dowd last May and has been termed throughout the country as the "chess" champion. He will receive $30,000 for his end of the gate tonight, while O'Dowd, former champion will get $20,000.

McKay is scheduled to meet Leo Marx in the six-round feature event at the Wasatch athletic club Friday evening.

CLOUDY SKIES TO CONTINUE AWHILE

Partly cloudy skies are forecasted tonight and tomorrow by the United States weather bureau with little change in temperature. Yesterday's maximum temperature broke the records of the present season reaching 64 degrees during the afternoon. The minimum temperature last night was 45 degrees.

RABBIT DRIVE NEXT MONDAY

Si Read and Others Arranging for Hunt At Promontory

Ogden and Weber county sportsmen will invade Promontory next Monday in quest of rabbits according to J. G. Read, one of the men in charge of the coming drive. Plans for the drive were completed today and a record number of sportsmen are expected to attend.

The hunters will depart from Ogden in machines and will reach Blue Creek during the forenoon according to present plans. At Blue Creek the journey will be made to their destination via wagons.

Farmers in that vicinity have offered to give their services to the hunters and have arranged to take care of the rabbits and otherwise aid the hunters.

John Sooter of Promontory reports that the rabbits in that vicinity are plentiful and that the roads are also in good condition according to Mr. Read.

"In case the weather conditions are unfavorable the hunters will motor to Brigham City and take the train from that point. Weber county officials have offered to furnish a truck to bring the rabbits to Ogden, in order that they may be distributed to the poor of the city.

Those wishing information concerning the coming hunt should communicate with Mr. Read by telephone at 1135.

SELECTING JURY TO TRY ZAPPACOSTA

Trial of Louis Zappacosta, charged with having intoxicating liquor in his possession, started in the city court this morning. A jury was ordered and the forenoon was occupied in the selection of a jury.

Zappacosta was arrested during the early part of January. His case has been pending since that time, having been continued from time to time for various reasons. The defendant changed counsel, and now, after over two months, the case is coming to trial. Attorney Royal Douglas is representing the defendant.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO DINNER DANCE

The monthly dinner-dance of the University club will be held this evening at the K. of P. hall. The dance will be preceded by a dinner, to be served at the Weber club. The dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 o'clock.

Rev. Godfrey Matthews and Superintendent W. Karl Hopkins will be the speakers.

ED. TOUT HERE ON SHORT VISIT

Nannie Tout Accompanies
Father on Trip to Old
Home

Ed. Tout, father of the famous Hazel Dawn, Nannie Tout, Margaret Romaine and Eleanor Tout, returned to Ogden yesterday for a short visit after an absence of ten years.

With him are his daughters Nannie and Georgia Rusovici, whom Mr. Tout described as a "wonderful tenor."

They will remain in Ogden for three weeks before continuing west.

Mr. Tout said he will give a metropolitan concert in Ogden before he leaves. "Just to show the people what we have got," he said.

His daughter Hazel, Mr. Tout said, together with Eleanor are starting at Boston in "Come Out of the Hay" now, a farce.

The musical comedy is just beginning to return to New York after several years, Mr. Tout said. "Short skirts, pretty faces and suggestive shows are occupying the minds of the New Yorker and he gives little attention to the serious stage productions."

While in Ogden Mr. Tout, his daughter and Signor Rusovici are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Enslin.

Mr. Tout said that he contemplates the purchase of a winter home in Arizona and within two years' time he said he will return to Ogden and again make his home here.

"We have always considered Ogden our home," Mr. Tout said, "and we are now making plans to come here to live."

"It has been my life's ambition to return to Ogden with my family and I am still determined to accomplish this."

Mr. Tout said that his daughter Nannie has been singing at La Scala, Italy's famous opera house. This season she will sing at the Metropolitan opera house with Margaret Romaine, her sister.

Another daughter, Grace, is married and lives in London. Erving, the only boy of the family, upon completion of his course at the Michigan School of Mines, Houghton, Mich., next June, will go to South America as mining engineer for the DuPonts.

Mr. Tout remained at the home on Long Island.

RELIEF SOCIETY DAY OBSERVED

Celebrating the seventy-ninth anniversary of the oldest women's organization in the United States, members of the various Relief societies in the Ogden, Weber and North Weber stakes are entertaining this afternoon and evening with programs including music, reading, plays and pageants. Many of the wards have already entertained during the early part of the week.

HISTORY RETOLD

Mrs. David Jensen of the Eighth ward relief society gave an interesting account of the history of the organization in the program given by the ward Tuesday. The society is known as the oldest women's organization in the United States and was organized on March 17, 1842, under the direction of Joseph Smith, the Mormon prophet. The society had been established before when the women decided that they could be of more assistance in the settling of the west if they were banded together.

Previous to the date of the organizing, Lyra R. Snow drew up a constitution and by-laws for such a society, but acting upon the advice of Joseph Smith, who recommended the idea, another constitution was drawn up and on March 17, the women were banded together in what was then known as "The Female Relief society of Nauvoo." This name was later changed to Relief society.

With the organization of the society, Mrs. Joseph Smith was elected president, with her counselors, Mrs. Sarah M. Cleveland and Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Whitton, to assist her. The object of the society was to band pioneer women together who would only look after the physical needs of man but the spiritual needs as well. Any woman was admitted to the society who was willing to help. Six years after the birth of the society, different organizations and clubs, but these have gradually died out.

Wards that are entertaining this evening are the Fourteenth, Twelfth, Fifth, Eleventh and Second. The Fourth ward, Thirteenth and Eighth ward have already celebrated the anniversary while tomorrow and the following day other wards will celebrate. Presidents of the three stake relief societies were in charge. Mrs. Frank J. Stevens of the Weber stake, Mrs. M. S. Marriott of the North Weber stake and Mrs. R. W. Treasurer of the Ogden stake.

JOSEPHINE IVERSON SUES FOR DIVORCE

On grounds of cruelty, Mrs. Josephine L. Iverson has filed suit for divorce in the district court from Emanuel N. Iverson. Mrs. Iverson alleges that her husband has assaulted her at various times and has called her vile names. The couple was married in Salt Lake, September 26, 1917.

Mrs. Iverson seeks freedom from the matrimonial ties, custody of the two minor children and alimony of $75 a month.

MANAGER SPEAKS

"Please," finally said Sir Philip to his friendly auditors, most of whom could not hear him, "don't say anything. Don't shout at them. You're making it worse. They'll tire pretty soon. Let them go. I beg of you."

The manager then ascended the stage and, placing his hand apologetically about the shoulders of Sir Philip, raised his voice to say "I am the manager." That was as far as he got. Pretty soon he started smiling, so did the speaker. Then came a lull.

"These people," the manager shouted, "have come here to hear a lecture, have paid money to hear it. Why can't you be fair?" The last of this died away in the din of hurrahs raised by a shout. "Hurrah for DeValera."

Sir Philip then seized the next full, saying: "Don't you men up there know I'm your friend? I'm here to tell Ireland's side, too." More hisses and boos descended.

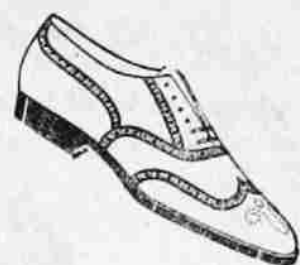

The reinforcements arrived, sprinkled about the gallery and second balcony. One fist fight resulted from the weeding out process between two men, one of whom was being evicted.

"We're sure giving this audience its money's worth," said the last man evicted. A roar of laughter followed him and the audience then settled down.

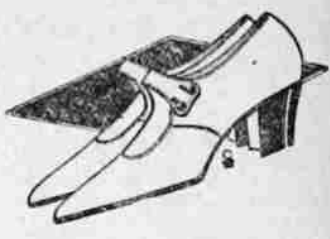

"Such a burst of enthusiasm," exclaimed Sir Philip preparing to resume his subject, "really I am convinced there is much interest in my subject."

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be. That it was at the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of

Wm. H. Fletcher
